- ◆ Corporate Culture
- ◆ Communication Skills
- ◆ Avoiding Burnout

Keynotes

As a speaker and consultant, Peg Neuhauser offers practical tips for actions to create a more innovative and adaptive organization. Her focus is on increasing collaboration in cross-functional teams, improving relationships among work colleagues, avoiding burnout, and strengthening the organization's culture to focus on its goals more effectively. Her stories, case examples, and humor illustrate each idea in a way that is both entertaining and easy to remember. Peg Neuhauser is also the author and co-author of several books about corporate culture and conflict resolution.

Workshops

The workshop format is designed for smaller groups than keynote speech audiences, usually 75 participants or less. The most common workshop time frames requested are 3-8 hours. These sessions are highly interactive with discussion, case studies, and practice of the skills being presented. The focus of the workshop format is on skill building and practice. Each workshop that Peg does is custom designed for the client and draws from the range of topics in her areas of expertise: conflict resolution, negotiation skills, corporate culture, and avoiding burn out.
